Like gentle ripples in a pond, light strikes a surface with this effect - thanks to a clear cylindrical lens in conjunction with a conical diffuser.

Archilume is the minimalist design hanging luminaire by Saleem Khattak : In its simple form hides a visionary development in the use of energy-saving LEDs. The light source itself is not visible - Archilume spreads pleasant, warm and elegant lighting.

This dimmable luminaire, ideal for use on counters and bars - including chandelier formations are discreetly attractive.
